HEBRON.

Fred Gurney has his mill full of apples. He makes very good cider.

Many wells are still dry. We shall hope for more rain before winter sets in.

Hunters report the grey squirrels as very plenty. One hunter saw a large one with a white tail.

The Grange celebrated the thirty-fourth anniversary on Saturday, Oct. 31st, with an all-day meeting.

Nearly all about here have sold their apples and the men are busy packing them. They say the apples are rotting badly, probably caused by the warm weather.

It was an ideal night for Halloween. The moon and the wind and the chill air all lent themselves to the magic and one could easily fancy the tramp of Old Tam's galloping horse.

Manley Bessey remains about the same. Little Josephine is improving and sits up for a few hours. The doctors decided it was not typhoid fever, she had 'though she had typhoid symptoms.

Mrs. Augustus Bartlett started Monday morning for Boston, called there by the illness of her son's wife. She intends to be gone two weeks or more. Mrs. Hibbs is doing the work while she is away.

Question of Annexation.

The question of annexation is being discussed by the voters of Rumford and Mexico. Mexico has gone so far in the matter as to appoint a committee to confer with a committee to be appointed by Rumford on the question of joining the two towns. The plan is to join the upper part of Mexico to Rumford, and to cut off the lower section of Mexico and make it a part of Dixfield. It runs down several miles below Rumford, on the Mexico side of the river.

The committee appointed by Mexico at a special town meeting held Saturday, included Dr. Wm. F. Hutchins, chairman; Hon. B. H. Taylor, a member of the board of selectmen, and a former county commissioner, Henry Park, postmaster at Mexico Corner, Charles E. Eaton, J. H. Holland, a farmer living near the Dixfield line, L. W. T. Thomas, and J. M. Doyen. The plan seems favorably received on both sides of the river.

At this same town meeting Mexico voted to build a hose tower and five hose houses for the hose reels, leaving the matter of raising the money in the hands of the selectmen.

We had been having such pleasant summer weather for so long that we were drifting apart in an easy, monotonous way when the "Cold Spell" came. The wind and the cold sent shivers of life and excitement through us. Then for the first time in a long life we realized what winter and the cold and the wind and the snow and ice meant to us Northerners. It made a change, something was doing. It called us to action, to overcome the elements of winter and conquer. Clothed in the warm clothing of winter out of doors is not bad and there is such a cozy comfort in the warm house where the thermometer registers zero.

The Lebrague block, a four-story, wooden building at Rumford Falls, on Congress street, occupied as a restaurant and boarding house by L. A. Spiller, and the adjoining building occupied by Solomon Steinfield as a clothing store, were burned Monday morning. Loss $15,000; insurance $10,000. The building was owned by W. B. Saunders of Barre, Vt.

Cure Your Dandruff

Why? Because it is annoying, untidy. And mostly, because it almost invariably leads to baldness. Cure it, and save your hair. Get more, too, at the same time. All easily done with Ayer's Hair Vigor, new improved formula. Stop this formation of dandruff!

Does not change the color of the hair.

Formula with each bottle. Show it to your doctor. Ask him about it, then do as he says.

The new Ayer's Hair Vigor will certainly do this work, because first of all, it cures the germs which are the original cause of dandruff. Having given this aid, nature completes the cure. The scalp is restored to a perfectly healthy condition.

Supreme Judicial Court.

Court reconvened at 10 o'clock Wednesday to complete the business of the court, and the formal matters incident to the closing of the term were attended to.

The two cases: the state of Maine in Equity against Bertha Cohen and Daniel McCafferty, and the state of Maine in Equity against Edward Tardiff came on for hearing at noon.

These two petitions signed by Chas. P. Barnes, County Attorney praying, for injunction forbidding the use of certain buildings in Rumford Falls for the illegal sale of intoxicating liquor. Mr. Barnes presented the records of convictions of the tenants of these buildings since Jan. 1st, 1907, and a preliminary injunction was granted in each case.

Charles Randall and Albert Duffy, who after indictment, had been placed in the hospital for the insane at Augusta for observation were then committed to that hospital by order of court and the indictments against them filed.

No court matter appearing for action, the court suspended to reconvene, if necessary on the 10th day of December, upon which day Grand Jurors are to report for duty if called for. The Traverse Jurors were ordered to hold themselves in readiness for service at any day.

It is understood that this order is taken for the purpose of taking action against offenders of the law at Rumford Falls, should there be any repetition of the rioting there.

NORTH FRYEBURG.

A Birthday Party.

Miss Mildred Wiswell gave a birthday party at her home Saturday evening, Oct. 31st. Twenty-five friends were present and she received many pretty and useful presents. We were well entertained the first part of the evening by choice selections on the piano, after which followed games which were enjoyed by all. 25,000 DOLLARS

A Story Everyone Should Read

True and Full of Human Interest

This sum of money, $25,000.00 will be given to any charitable institution if it can be shown that the story of Father John's Medicine is not true in every particular. This story, in brief is as follows:

Half a century ago Rev. Fr. John O'Brien of Lowell, Mass., through overwork and exposure, became seriously ill, a cold and stubborn cough and lung trouble threatened his life. An eminent specialist gave Father John, as he was fondly called, a prescription to cure the cold and remove the lung trouble as well as to build up and strengthen the body. The clergyman began to improve at once, the cough disappeared and his lungs healed. It corrected his digestion, made new tissue and Father John was soon restored to his former health and strength.

Father John recommended the medicine to his parishioners and friends and because of its merits it became the family remedy in thousands of homes, and it became known as "Father John's Medicine" having been so named by the people, and was advertised, all with the approval of Father John.

It will cure all throat and lung troubles, prevent pneumonia and consumption, and make flesh and strength if taken faithfully. It is not a patent medicine and does not contain alcohol or poisonous drugs. Guaranteed.

Working as a compositor at the ADVERTISER office, has gone to Exeter, N. H., to work in the printing office there.

"The first snow storm" came Saturday. While the ground was not whitened it snowed vigorously several times. The ground was frozen Saturday morning.

Mr. Fleming has moved his family from the rent over the Ross store to South Paris, and Abner Jackson and son have been making repairs about the place, which is now their property.

Cummings Bros. have had a surveyor at work this week to establish lines between their property in Bethel, Brown street, and Morris Klain, who owns the John Cummings estate.

Knox Bickford, Harry Horne and Harry Downing were among the number that took advantage of the students' train to witness the big game at Lewiston, Saturday, and took a day at home.

Mrs. Emma J. Bickford left home Friday for Boston to consult a specialist. She will go to the Vincent Memorial hospital for treatment. Rev. M. H. Carroll and Mrs. Carroll accompanied her.

Fifty couples attended the first social assembly under the auspices of Mystic Lodge, A. O. U. W., No. 10, at G. A. R. hall, Friday evening. The music was furnished by the Mystic lodge orchestra. The next assembly will be Friday night, Nov. 13th.

Mrs. Pearl Stanton and daughter of Norway have been visiting relatives in Mechanic Falls, Mrs. Frank Kimball was also there last week, and Mrs. Grace L. Leavitt has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. F. A. Millett.

John D. Cole returned last week to his Boston home from a month's trip to New Mexico. He writes that New England is the best place to live for a year in parts of New Mexico and the Rio Grande dry enough to camp in. They ran into a snowstorm before starting home.

Herbert P. Frost will sell at public auction at the Weston Frost farm in Norway, Saturday, Nov. 7, beginning at 9 o'clock a. m. The property for sale includes tools and live stock; A. D. Park, auctioneer. There are a great many things in this sale that farmers need. Sale positive rain or shine.

Mr. and Mrs. George D. Swift entertained a number of friends at their home on Paris street last Friday evening, Halloween. A very pleasant evening was passed roasting chestnuts in the fireplace. Games were played and there was music by Miss Chase. The rooms were decorated with lanterns and goblets which were very funny. A light lunch was served. A brownie pie was enjoyed by all. The souvenir was a pumpkin booklet. The game of Donkey was played which caused much laughter. Mrs. Nybourg getting the booby prize. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Littlefield, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Nybourg, Maude Anderson, Mrs. Henry Chase, Bessie Chase, Josie Chase, Archie F. Swift, Ruby V. Swift.

Capt. Meltoleto Golden of the Salvation army has been in Norway the past week. Capt. Golden was formerly High Priest of the Greek church. He was born in Greece and brought up a believer in the Greek church and educated for the priesthood. He passed through the various ranks of the ministry of his church till he reached that of high priest. In 1903 Mr. Golden was on a vacation trip through the United States. He attended an outdoor meeting of the Salvationists and was much impressed with the work. He again and again met the army in other places, and finally that year he went to Chicago, renounced the Greek church and began training for the army work. Since then he has been a valued officer in the Salvation army and until coming east a few weeks ago was division collector for Northern New England. He was division collector for Illinois.

Installation of Rev. M. C. Ward.

The installation of Rev. Merrill C. Ward as pastor of the Universalist church of Norway, Thursday evening, called out a good many people. The exercises were in charge of Rev. Charles R. Tenney and were very impressive. There was congregational singing, a solo by Mrs. Frank Kimball, duets by Mrs. Kimball and Mr. Moore, and Mrs. Kimball and Miss Washburn. Mrs. Charles S. Akers was the organist.

Rev. Isabella Macduff read the Scripture lesson, the third chapter of I Corinthians, and after her manner of reading it took on a deeper meaning than when we had read it by ourselves. The sermon was by Rev. Harvey H. Hoyt and was taken from the last two verses of this same chapter. Perhaps the best thought was the strikingly plain and simple way he made of "All (things) are yours." The prayer of installation was by Rev. James H. Little and he invoked that good things might come to the pastor and the people as God might think was deserved. Rev. Dwight A. Ball gave the benediction to the pastor and it was a heartfelt talk of pastor to people, by one who understood what a pastor's life should be, and the hardships and trials of a pastor's life, as well as the many good things for the faithful as he journeyed along with the world.

Rev. Mr. Tenney gave the charge to the people. This was the church that Mr. Tenney attended when a boy—his mother church, and he said it was a trying position, something like telling his mother what she ought to do. He did the deed nobly. Some of the points were so good we think we may safely tell you—

The empty pew in the front of the church that is so hard for a minister to preach over. (By the way we saw some of them in a paper about those empty front pews the other day. It asked why in a place of amusement everyone wanted the front seats and would even pay a greater price for the front seats, while in a church there was always a scramble for the back seats. Could it be that they took the poorer seats waiting to be called to the better?) Mr. Tenney said a minister would prefer to have the people in the front seats if the whole house could not be filled. That people must not be too critical and stand back and see what a new minister would do but just help him in every way. Help him by coming to church, help him by going to him with his troubles and perplexities, help him in the church work, help him by offering suggestions, help him by paying his salary promptly and relieving him of financial anxiety, help him by kindness, a pleasant word and a pleasant face.

Rev. Bates S. Rideout of the Congregational church welcomed Mr. Ward to the town. Mr. Rideout has been here over twenty-one years and surely he ought to know how the town uses its ministers. He was kind enough to say that the town should be a goodly one of nature and the people a goodly one of nature. He said that a minister should take interest not only in all affairs connected directly with the church, but those outside of the church that tended to the good of the community, in schools, in politics, in temperance, everything to the best of his knowledge and ability. "Be a man among men," and in affairs of dollars and cents, a business man.

The audience was dismissed with a benediction by the pastor.

Dr. Prudent Bedard has returned from a trip to Belfast, Bath, Lewiston and Portland.

The pupils as well as the teachers believe that the meetings in Portland last week were great things for education.

Arthur R. Grover of Boston called on relatives in Norway and Paris, Sunday. He left on the evening train for home.

Mrs. A. E. K. Grover returned Tuesday from an extended visit with relatives and friends in Bethel and Albany.

Mrs. Ellen (Millett) Davenport of Worcester, Mass., is suffering from an injured finger joint. She recently returned from a visit with her cousins in New York city.

At the party at George Swift's on Paris street, while the guests were enjoying their lunch, one of the lanterns caught fire which caused a lively time for a few minutes. No one was hurt but one of the chairs has lost its beauty, being badly scorched. Arthur Littlefield was the first to notice the fire and did brave work in the roll as fireman.

Mrs. W. H. Warren, who has been spending the summer in Berlin, N. H., with her niece and nephew, Mr. and Mrs. J. Howard Dyer, left on Monday, Oct. 19, for California to spend the winter.

Suffered from Nervousness and a General Break Down--Caused by a Cold.
RESTORED TO HEALTH BY VINOL

"I caught a severe cold which it seemed impossible to get rid of. I became much run down, lost my appetite and flesh and felt nervous and irritable. Vinol was recommended, and certainly worked wonders for me; it increased my appetite and cured my cough and nervousness. I consider Vinol a wonderful remedy." Mrs. W. T. Burns, Memphis, Tenn.

Many people are in just her condition—all run down, hardly able to drag about, don't know what ails them. This is probably caused by a cold or cough which is hard to cure, overwork or too close confinement to business, and such people need Vinol.

Vinol is not a patent medicine, but contains the medicinal curative elements found in fresh cod's livers, with all the oil eliminated and tonic iron added.

We ask every run down, nervous, debilitated, aged or weak person in this place, and every person suffering from stubborn colds, hanging-on coughs or bronchitis, to try Vinol on our offer to return money if it fails to give satisfaction. Frank P. Stone, Druggist, Norway.

I AM A MOTHER

How many American women in lonely homes to-day long for this blessing to come into their lives, and to be able to utter these words, but because of some organic derangement this happiness is denied them.

Every woman interested in this subject should know that preparation for healthy maternity is accomplished by the use of

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

Mrs. Maggie Gilmer, of West Union, S. C., writes to Mrs. Pinkham: "I was greatly run-down in health from a weakness peculiar to my sex, when Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me. It not only restored me to perfect health, but to my delight I am a mother."

Mrs. Josephine Hall, of Bardonia, Ky., writes: "I was a very great sufferer from female troubles, and my physician failed to help me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound not only restored me to perfect health, but I am now a proud mother."

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has answered thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

A Big Squash Story.

Up in an Oxford county town several years ago there lived an elderly preacher who had retired from active pursuit of his calling and occupied a pulpit, occasionally, and in the summer months he devoted himself to the care of his large garden, of which not only he but his neighbors were very proud. He was fond of a good wash and he certainly had some bouncers at the end of each season.

One year he had unusually good luck and as the time approached for the holding of the cattle show, it was seen that the elder and stout a wonderful victory over all the results of all previous efforts to produce mammoth squashes.

His "baby elephant," as he fondly called it, was jealously watched and the old man felt as happy as though he had succeeded in one year in accumulating a vast fortune.

But alas! his fond hopes were soon dispelled by gunpowder. He had made himself a bit unpopular with some of the young fellows in the community and desiring to get even with him, they thought there could be no better way than to destroy the pet of his vegetable garden.

One dark night they stole into the enclosure, bored a hole in the squash and put in a good charge of powder. The fuse was put in place and lighted and the avenger hurried outside to await developments. Scarcely had they climbed the fence when the explosion came and the loud enough sound was heard by him, when he went to look at his would-be prize winner in the morning one was judge of his surprise and grief. A whole season's careful work had come to naught in a single night.

Of course the act was roundly condemned by all of his neighbors, but while they were pretty sure who did it there was no proof to sustain their belief.

Maine Is Not Alone.

Game License Laws in 36 States and Territories: Fees Range From $10 to $50—No Resident Land Owners, In Some Instances, Are Not Required to Pay Fee.

So much has been said and printed especially in New England against the laws in Maine that it may be interesting to learn what are the laws in many other states about shooting game.

A summary of these laws has been compiled and recently printed by the Game Commission. By it, it will be seen that nearly every state in the union where there is big game there is a license law and in most of the conditions imposed on non-residents are harder than they are in Maine.

Following is the text of the compilation:

In Arkansas non-residents are not permitted to hunt, except on their own premises, and in 36 states and territories, and throughout Canada, licenses must be secured before non-residents can hunt any or certain kinds of game.

In 16 states and four Canadian provinces a like restriction is imposed upon residents, but the fees are usually very much smaller and often are merely nominal. The fees for non-resident licenses which permit hunting of both large and small game range from $10 in a number of states to $50 in Wyoming, British Columbia and Newfoundland; those of resident licenses from 75 cents in Illinois to $10 in Colorado, $5 in Washington and $7 ($5 for moose and for caribou, and $2 for deer) in Ontario.

A new kind of hunting license has recently come into use in what may be called the "alien" license, which allows persons who are not citizens of the country in special cases to hunt them as non-residents, even though they are residents of the state. Thus Pennsylvania, Louisiana, Utah and Wyoming provide that all hunters who are not naturalized residents of the state must pay the fee exacted of non-residents. Massachusetts has a special $15 license for resident aliens, Washington a $50, Manitoba has a $100 license for all who are not British subjects.

Licenses are generally issued only for a season, and thus expire at fixed dates. Some are necessarily very brief in duration. Michigan issues a $25 non-resident deer license good only from November 10 to December 1; Vermont a $15 non-resident license good only for the last six weeks of the year. In a few instances brief licenses are issued independently of the length of the season. Of this character are a $5 non-resident bird license, good for one day, issued by British Columbia, a five day guest license for deer or caribou, issued by the northwest territories, and licenses issued for hunting birds in Colorado and any game in Lafayette county, Fla.

Six states issue licenses good only in the county, and therefore do not ride, Georgia (market hunting), Iowa (Maryland, South Carolina and South Dakota)—with fees ranging from $1 for residents hunting ducks for market in South Carolina.

Two states and six Canadian provinces allow non-resident licenses to carry or ship out of the state or province a limited amount of game, while this privilege is denied by 14 states and territories and two Canadian provinces.

Maine, Michigan and Montana issue export permits additional to the hunting license.

Non-resident landowners or taxpayers are not required to pay the usual fee in Kansas, Maryland (most counties), New Hampshire, New Jersey, North Dakota, Tennessee, West Virginia, Nova Scotia. But to secure this exemption in New Hampshire the non-resident hunter must own land to the value of $500 or more, in Tennessee, and Nova Scotia, must pay a tax of at least $100 or $20 per annum, respectively, and in North Dakota must own or cultivate a quarter section of land. Similar exemptions are made in the case of landowners and, in some instances their tenants, hunting on their own land in Colorado (large game), Illinois, Missouri, North Dakota and Oregon, and no license is required of those hunting within their own township in Indiana or Virginia.

In Maine, South Dakota, Wyoming, non-resident hunters are permitted to hunt big game unless accompanied by a licensed guide, and in Colorado, Maine, Montana, Wyoming, New Brunswick, Newfoundland and Ontario guides are licensed. Maine and New Brunswick also license camp help. Nearly every state requires licenses to be taken by non-residents in personal possession while hunting and to exhibit them on demand of any warden (in New Hampshire or any person.)

NORTH BETHEL.

Del. Stearns and wife spent last week in Boston.

Mrs. Daisy Philbrook is visiting her parents in Albany.

Bion Swan has about eighty cords of wood ready for market.

Mrs. A. E. K. Grover of Norway spent a few days with her sister, Mrs. E. F. Swan.

Mrs. Bion O. N. Swan visited at her husband's parents', Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Swan's, last Friday.

Ernest Demeritt, guide, is at his father's, Charles Demeritt's, for a while. As he was present at resident Roosevelt's inauguration he is intended to be present at the inauguration of the next president. On the two visits he has made to Washington, D. C., he has been the guest of the people he has guided in the Rangeling region. Mr. Demeritt is an interesting talker and a great reader.

It is time to commence saving your "pin-money" to create your fund for attending the next great world's fair which will open in Seattle on the first of next June. It will be called the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition and the managers are already announcing that they are going to surprise the public by having the show complete on the very opening day.

The voice of the "Spell-binder" is now hushed, and it will arise again before the next election.

Mrs. C. Atherton recently had a card from Leon Stowe, a former Sunday River boy, now in Italy, saying he was coming to Bethel for Thanksgiving.

Mrs. Mary A. Kendall, who spent the greater part of the summer and early fall with her brothers at York Beach and Onset, Mass., is now at home on Summer street.

If a portion of the exceptionally fine crop of pumpkins and squash grown in Maine this season gets into connection with the hogs being fattened—well cooked with a dash of corn or barley meal—the consumers of home grown pork will smile when this class of pork comes to the table. Nothing can be better than such a ration to give flavor to pork that has been previously grown on a combined pasture and milk diet. Try it.

Two states and six Canadian provinces allow non-resident licenses to carry or ship out of the state or province a limited amount of game, while this privilege is denied by 14 states and territories and two Canadian provinces.

Non-resident landowners or taxpayers are not required to pay the usual fee in Kansas, Maryland (most counties), New Hampshire, New Jersey, North Dakota, Tennessee, West Virginia, Nova Scotia. But to secure this exemption in New Hampshire the non-resident hunter must own land to the value of $500 or more, in Tennessee, and Nova Scotia, must pay a tax of at least $100 or $20 per annum, respectively, and in North Dakota must own or cultivate a quarter section of land. Similar exemptions are made in the case of landowners and, in some instances their tenants, hunting on their own land in Colorado (large game), Illinois, Missouri, North Dakota and Oregon, and no license is required of those hunting within their own township in Indiana or Virginia.

Addie Olmstead gave her little girl, Carlissa, a surprise party, Saturday, it being her third birthday. There were a good many children there who spent the afternoon in playing different games. At 8 o'clock they were invited to the dining room where the table was laden with all kinds of goodies. After tea they were led into the sitting room and a lovely treat of candies and pastries. There were a number of nice presents. All wished her many returns of the day.

Mrs. J. T. Pennock has returned home from a two weeks' vacation at Bethel. Cora Allen is away on a week's vacation and Elsie York is keeping house for her.

Mrs. Cora Allen and Mrs. H. L. Whitcomb called on Addie Olmstead and Augusta Learned, recently.

MAGALLOWAY.

Hannah Fickett has gone to South Paris visiting.

Mrs. Lewis Fickett visited Mrs. Quincy Davis, Wednesday.

Mrs. Kimball Bennett of South Paris is visiting friends in town.

Claude Linnell has gone to Sunday Cove to scale for the winter.

Quincy Davis went to Colebrook, Monday and returned Sunday.

Grace Crimmins is staying with her grandmother, Mrs. Annie Bennett.

Mrs. Liza Wilson and daughter Edith have gone to Errol to stay this winter with her niece, Mrs. Edith Bennett.

There has been a forest fire near the Dead Diamond, near the Black Mountain and burnt over between five and six acres of timber land.

Mr. Chapman and a party of five others are on a two weeks' vacation up the Dead Diamond and Mr. Chapman has caught ten foxes and we think he must be quite a fox hunter.

Mrs. Arthur Swett has finished work at Hell Gate sporting camp and came down Oct. 22. Mr. Swett is going to remain at the camp through the hunting season and they are to go to Colebrook to live in their new home during the winter.

Rodney Grapes is working for Quincy Davis.

Lewis Fickett was at Quincy Davis', Monday.

George Bennett is working for Marshall Linnell.

Helen Bird visited Mrs. Bertha Crimmins on Monday.

David York has moved into Edgar Bennett's house.

Mr. and Mrs. George York are visiting his sister, Mrs. Steve Patterson.

Charles Young and John Leavitt were down from the College Farm, Sunday.

Mrs. Leroy Bragg and Mrs. Jim Bragg visited Mrs. Quincy Davis and Mrs. Lewis Fickett last Sunday.

Leroy Bragg from Errol, N. H., has gone over to Sunday Cove to scale for the Berlin Mills Co. for the winter.

Winslow York, who has been living at Colebrook, N. H., has moved his family into his house here in the neighborhood.

Mrs. Arthur Littlehale visited her mother, Mrs. Percy Ripley, last Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Powers are boasting at her father's, Frank Wilson's, this fall.

Peter Bennett went up to Camerons' camp on the Dead Diamond with a load of supplies.

George Flint went to Milan, N. H., to visit his daughter, Mrs. Lea Wilson. Quincy Davis has been to Milsfield, N. H.

Rodney Grapes has gone to Colebrook, where he is going to move his family up on his farm in East Colebrook.

A party of four sportsmen from New York stayed at Quincy Davis' on their way home. They had fine luck, each getting two deer apiece.

Mrs. Leslie Hart and Lois Bennett were around Wednesday, getting the Grangers to cook something for the Grange next Friday night.

It is reported that Geraldine Farrar, the prima donna, whom Oxford county claims in a measure through being the home of her ancestors, is reported as engaged to Antonio Scotti, an Italian baritone.

Africa's Awful Scourge.

The Sleeping Sickness and Its Victims.

Fight is being waged against sleeping sickness, that awful African scourge, the mystery of which continues to baffles scientists.

The downright uncompromising deadliness of the disease is its most awesome characteristic. The numerous research expeditions which have gone out to Uganda, under government and private auspices, have got no further than to determine the cause of the trouble, and to alleviate its mysteries. Anything like a cure has yet to be discovered.

The population of the area principally affected was 300,000 a few short years ago. Now it is 100,000. Two hundred thousand people have actually died of the disease in this locality alone.

At the present moment some 20,000 natives of Central Africa are in an advanced stage of sleeping sickness. Hope which is said to spring eternal in the human breast, has no message for these poor souls. Their doom is sealed.

Sleeping sickness as its name indicates bears a curious resemblance to sleep. It is caused by the sting of the tsetse fly. The actual bite is not poisonous. The fly acts a go-between, depositing in one animal a trypanosoma which it has sucked from the blood of another. The trypanosoma, or parasite, carries death, after inflicting the victim becomes extremely excitable. Then he lapses into lethargy, followed by exhaustion. The periods of lethargy grow longer and deeper; the interludes of excitability shorter and more violent. Various glands of the body begin to swell, and at last the patient sinks into a state of coma, or continuous sleep.

No patient, when he reaches that stage, ever awakes. He sleeps on and on—for six months, a year, or even two years. "Time takes him home," to the soft, long sleep, to the broad, sweet bosom of death.

A traveler who recently returned from the sleeping sickness country, recalls with horror the devastations of the terrible plague in the regions which are traversed. The sights, he says, were fearful. People lay dead and dying on the roadsides. It is the custom to turn stricken natives out to die; consequently almost every village presented a revolting spectacle.

Medical inquiry was initiated in 1902, when the Royal society sent out an expedition for the study of the malady. The cause was soon discovered. Colonel David Bruce traced it to the tsetse fly. The geographical distribution of the fly corresponded absolutely to that of the disease. Natives collected the fly in packets. It was made to bite monkeys. The monkeys contracted the disease and passed into the sleeping stage.

The next question was: Where does the fly get the microbe? That mystery remains unsolved, although theories, of course abound.

Dr. Robert Koch, the eminent bacteriologist, who discovered the bacillus of consumption set out to solve this problem. At first he thought he had found a cure in the compound of arsenic known as atoxyl. It certainly gave relief, but only time would show whether the relief was permanent.

Dr. Koch had to admit a few days ago, that although atoxyl drives the parasite away for a time, they tend to return and the disease ends fatally. No permanent cure from atoxyl or any other remedy, has yet been reported.

GILEAD.

Died from the Operation.
Mrs. Taylor of Hastings went to the hospital at Lewiston to be operated on for a tumor and died in the operation. She was brought to Gilead, Friday, and buried in the Lary cemetery. She was a hard working mother and tried hard to keep her family together. She had seven children living.

Perley Bennett got a fine deer, Friday. It dressed off 180 pounds.

Mrs. Frank Howe was the guest of Nora Goodnow, Sunday.

There is snow on the ground at this writing. Pretty good deer hunting. Mrs. Etta Dennis of West Bethel was the guest of her aunt, Eva DeCoster, a few days last week.

Ephraim White died Friday. He was the oldest man in town and much beloved by all who knew him.

We are informed that Leon Wallace has a big job cutting cord wood for D. R. Hastings at West Bethel.

NORTH PARIS.

Dr. C. E. Walker of Norway has been testing cows in this vicinity.

B. K. Dow raised 50 bushels of potatoes on 27 square rods of ground.

OXFORD.

Cribbage Club's Outing.
Sunday, twelve members of the Cribbage club enjoyed an outing and dinner at the camp of Joseph Jacques on the shore of Lake Thompson. The dinner was the result of a contest at cribbage between its members, each pair playing ten games with every other pair, the six losers furnishing the dinner. "Chet" McAllister was "chit" and it is needless to say that under his efficient direction the outing was a success. When every one was satisfied cigars were produced and the balance of time spent in a social way. A homeleat cat found near the camp was claimed by "Chet," who induced one of the members to bring it to his house. "Chet" has named his new pet "Crib."

Percy Adams was in town over Sunday.

John W. Chadbourne was in Norway, Monday.

Mrs. Emma Bumpus visited Lewiston, Saturday.

Leon Walker of Portland spent Sunday with his parents.

Mrs. Inez Eaton was in Lewiston, Saturday of last week.

Alton Delano was home from his school work three days of last week.

Mrs. William Bonney of High street was quite ill last week but is now convalescent.

A. S. Fuller from Poland Springs was at the home of George H. Jones over Sunday.

Earle Kavanaugh, our sprightly drug clerk, spent Saturday and Sunday in Portland.

All teachers of the village schools attended the teachers' convention held in Portland last week.

Craigie Temple of Pythian Sisters held their regular bimonthly meeting in S. of T. hall, Wednesday, Nov. 4th.

Clinton Bumpus, who has been enjoying a two week vacation, returned on Monday to his work in the basket factory.

Mrs. Emma Holden, who has been in Oxtisfield during the last two weeks, assisting Mrs. D. L. Holden, returned to her home, Saturday.

Charles Farrott and friends from Lynn, Mass., have been staying at Mr. Farrott's camp on the shore of Lake Thompson. They returned to Lynn, Saturday.

Angie Thayer, who is attending the teachers' training school at South Paris, spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents in Lewiston, Saturday.

Mrs. Lucy McKay, who has been on a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Vehe of High street, returned Saturday to her home in Rochester, N. H.

Mrs. Frank L. Walker and daughter, Clara, were in Lewiston, Saturday, visiting with Mrs. Walker's sister, Mrs. Harry Russell and buying winter garments.

The ladies of the Congregational society furnished a chicken pie supper in S. of T. hall, Friday evening last. A goodly number were present and pronounced the pies most toothsome.

The first few days of November bring home the unwelcome fact that winter will soon be upon us, and many are banking their houses with earth and brush, putting on storm doors and windows and preparing for cold weather.

Margaret Walker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Walker, went on Monday to Dr. Cousins' private hospital in Portland. During the last year Miss Walker had suffered with catarrhal appendicitis, and at an examination Saturday last, was deemed wise to operate. Miss Walker was accompanied by her mother, who will remain until after the operation.

The young ladies of the Congregational Sunday school, class No. 4, held a Halloween party, Saturday evening, Oct. 31, at Congregational chapel. The room was tastefully decorated and was dressed with a liberal supply of pumpkins. Games, appropriate to the occasion, were played and a social and jolly evening was spent. It is needless to say that the expectant witches did not appear.

The annual session of the Grand Division Sons of Temperance assembled in S. of T. hall, Oxford, on Wednesday, Oct. 28. Officers present were: Grand Worthy Patriarch, Wellington Mathew of Portland; Grand Worthy Associate, William P. Pratt of Portland; Grand Scribe, Annie L. Hayes of Chelsea; Grand Treasurer, George J. Parrott of Oxford; Grand Conductor, George Hazen of Oxford; Grand Sentinel, H. S. Burgess of Portland. Dinner and supper were served in S. of T. hall by the ladies of Oxford Division and their tables were literally overflowing with good things. After dinner the business part of the meeting took up the greatest portion of the afternoon. Reports from the different divisions over the State showed a gain in membership. A committee on temperance was appointed to serve during the session of the next legislature. Representatives were also elected to the National Division, which meets in Worcester, July next. After supper the officers elected were installed. The installation was followed by a very entertaining program, musical. The representatives and visitors present one and all declared they had been most royally entertained.

Fore Street.
Mrs. Hattie Boyd is keeping house for Al Twitchell.

Mr. Flint has moved his family to their new home at North Norway.

The scholars of Fore Street school gave a Halloween party at the schoolhouse, Thursday evening, Oct. 29th. About forty young people, young men, young women, boys and girls, were present. Several witches, ghosts and goblins. The school-room was decorated very appropriate for the occasion. Jack-o'-lanterns perched in every corner. The first on the program was a peanut hunt. Arthur Thompson received the first prize. Edith Whitman, the booty prize. Several different apple contests were enjoyed, also many other games. A few readings were given by Lawrence Rowe, which were much enjoyed. The fortune teller was of great interest. At a late hour the tired but happy crowd separated after a very pleasant evening.

Death of a Child.
Alta, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Meserve of Hastings, died of cholera infantum after an illness of only four days, Oct. 29th, aged 1 year, 6 months and 10 days. She was taken for burial to Oxtisfield, the home of her parents. The services were held at the church at Spurr's Corner.

WEST PARIS.

County Universalist Association.
The Oxford County Universalist association held here last week Wednesday and Thursday was full of interest and helpfulness and had a very large attendance. The work for the year was reported by preachers besides Mrs. E. H. Chapin of Rockland and Geo. E. Fogg of Portland also Rev. Ralph E. Connor of Auburn who preached a sermon Wednesday evening. The local minister, Quaker furnished music. L. M. Irish gave a trombone solo for a voluntary.

At the business meeting Thursday morning the following officers were elected:

Pres.—E. C. Park, Bethel.
V. Pres.—Chas. F. Ridlon, Norway.
Sec.—Rev. D. A. Ball, Mechanic Falls.
Treas.—Rev. D. A. Ball, Mechanic Falls.

Faithful work for the year was apparent by the reports given. Meals were served the first day in Good Will hall by the society and on Thursday 75 or more patronized the harvest dinner given by the Methodist Aid society at Centennial hall.
